Dr. Kelvin Thompson

A popular speaker and facilitator, Dr. Thompson regularly addresses groups throughout the US on topics related to online/blended learning and educational technology while he serves as the Director of Online Design & Development Strategy for the University of Central Florida's (UCF) Center for Distributed Learning. He has collaborated on the design of hundreds of online and blended courses over the past eighteen years. Kelvin developed the BlendKit Course open courseware as part of UCF's Blended Learning Toolkit.
